

Guide to the application: Boundary alteration/amalgamation/subdivision

This application is used to:

- apply to Murray Irrigation to subdivide a landholding and associated shares, water entitlements and delivery entitlements. This process does not fulfil the subdivision of lands – where necessary subdivision must also be completed with the relevant local government authority; or
- apply to Murray Irrigation for the amalgamation of two or more contiguous landholdings and associated shares, water entitlements and delivery entitlements into one, mostly for operational purposes; or
- apply to Murray Irrigation for the addition or removal of a parcel of land from the boundary of a landholding.

This guide should be read in conjunction with and subject to Murray Irrigation's Transfer Rules Policy.

2 Notes

2.1 General

- 1) Additional assistance from Murray Irrigation, outside of the usual processing of such an application, may be requested and provided on a chargeable hourly rate basis. Refer to the Schedule of Standard Service Fees for rates.
- 2) Forms or pages that are not dated or otherwise complete may be returned.

2.1.2 Boundary Alteration – Addition of a lot

- 1) Only one landholding may be dealt with per application.
- 2) The lot must be within the company's area of operations. If not, a separate Form 29 application will need to accompany the boundary alteration.
- 3) The lot to be added must be in the same ownership as the existing landholding and must share a boundary with the existing landholding

2.1.3 Boundary Alteration – Removal of a lot

- 1) Only one landholding may be dealt with per application.
- 2) Evidence must be provided of an alternative water supply to the lot being removed.

Including but not limited to the following;

- Written advice from solicitor that area to be removed has no alternative water supply and does not require water access of any type for the future
- Copy of bore license for previously constructed bore
- Copy of NOW Water Supply Work approval for any bore, well or spearpoint constructed to access aquifer under Water Management Act 2000 domestic and stock rights

The purpose of documented evidence of an alternative water supply is to ensure that landholders are not accused of illegal access to and removal of Murray Irrigation water supply in the future should signs of water use become evident.

- 3) If the area to be removed is a portion of an existing lot, the customer must first lodge and have registered a plan of subdivision with their local council, and be issued with lot and DP numbers to enable this transaction to take place.
- 4) The removed lot is not excluded from the company's area of operations, except in special circumstances. Such circumstances are dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

2.1.4 Subdivision

- 1) Only one landholding may be subdivided per application.
- 2) The flow share available to the original landholding will be divided equally amongst the original landholding and the new landholding.
- 3) An additional vote will be allotted to any new landholding.
- 4) Works are usually required for a subdivision to proceed. An application for subdivision will not be processed until all works have been completed.
- 5) A new water allocation account number and landholding reference number will be assigned to any new landholding. This maintains discrete historical records for each original landholding. No water allocated is transferred as part of this process.
- 6) Any subdivided portion will be registered in the name of the owner of the original landholding. Any subsequent change of ownership requires a separate application (Form 9)
- 7) If the subdivision is aligned with existing lots (no splitting of blocks or realigning boundaries etc.), the plan of subdivision lodged with council is not required.

2.1.5 Amalgamation

- 1) Each landholding to be amalgamated must be held in identical names or operated by one business entity. If not held in the same name, complete the Accountant's Declaration.
- 2) Landholdings to be amalgamated must share a common boundary, or if separated by government infrastructure such as a public road, the supply and/or drainage systems of the two landholdings must be connected.
- 3) A new water allocation account number and landholding reference number will be assigned to any new landholding. This maintains discrete historical records for each original landholding.
- 4) Future de-amalgamations will be treated as a subdivision application and will be subject to all relevant rules and procedures at that time.
- 5) You are entitled to the same number of votes as you were before amalgamation, in accordance with the company's constitution.
- 6) The flow shares available to the original landholding will be added together but may be subject to operational constraints.
- 7) All shares, water entitlements, delivery entitlements and water allocation corresponding with the landholding reference numbers will also be amalgamated.

2.2 Security interests (subdivision/amalgamation only)

- 1) If a mortgage, charge or caveat appears on the titles of the land or Murray Irrigation's registers, Consent (Form 19 – Security interest) is required from each interested party. No application fee is required for consent.

2.3 Allocation, carryover, casual usage fee

- 1) Water allocation is not transferred unless specified - amounts credited to the transferor up to the time of registration will remain in that account.
- 2) The allocation and carryover amounts specified (if any) will be transferred upon registration. Please provide a whole number of ML or select pro-rata and date.

2.4 Pro-rata calculation based on total amount of allocation or carryover credited to vendor account as at date nominated, proportional to the number of water entitlements transferring. Pro-rata amounts will be transferred at time of finalisation.
