Winter Operating Mode

We are transitioning out of Winter Operating Mode into the irrigation season. The focus of this transition is to:

- match supply with customer demand
- ensure adequate airspace in the short term to balance the benefit of any potential supplementary event
- support the successful completion of the Winter Maintenance Program.

To assist us in understanding customer demand we will be asking customers to advise us of their spring irrigation intentions. More information will be released next week.

Customers in non-maintenance zones can continue to access water orders however supply is not guaranteed.

Customer Operational Meetings

A digital recording of the presentations at the recent Customer Operational Meetings will be available on our website later this week.

Customers will be notified when the recording is available.
